

ENDA STORY

Nick Hern Books publishes the best of the Fest

THE NEW ELECTRIC BALLROOM by Enda Walsh

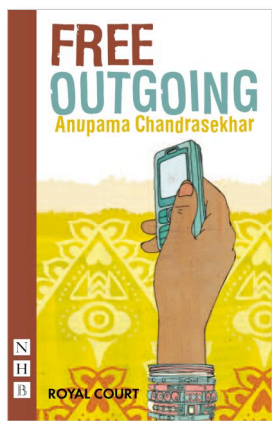

A coiled, dark, glitter-dusted fable of the emotionally stultifying effects of small-town life – from the author of Fringe First-winning The Walworth Farce.

'if there is a bleaker, funnier or more desperate play in Edinburgh this year, I'll eat my hat' Guardian on The Walworth Farce

Traverse Theatre, 30 July–24 August,
directed by Enda Walsh

ISBN: 978 | 85459 532 4 • £8.99 • Script available now

•

FREE OUTGOING by Anupama Chandrasekhar

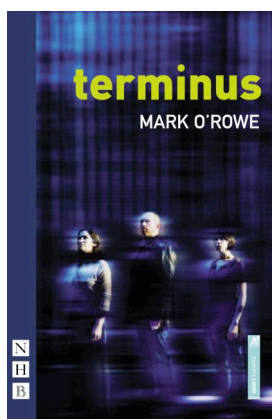

Setting the rampant technology of the modern world against the conservatism of a traditional society, Free Outgoing is one of the highlights of the Royal Court's Upstairs Downstairs season.

'Chandrasekhar writes with both economy and power'
Telegraph

Traverse Theatre, 31 July–24 August, directed by Indhu Rubasingham

ISBN: 978 | 85459 570 6 • £8.99 • Script available now

•

TERMINUS by Mark O'Rowe

A blackly comic vision of Dublin infested with demons, from the author of Howie the Rookie.

'hilarious, stunning, surprisingly touching and enormously satisfying... a fantastic piece of writing' Irish Times

Traverse Theatre, 1–24 August, directed by Mark O'Rowe

ISBN: 978 | 85459 986 5 • £8.99 • Script available now

Other NHB plays on the Fringe:

Be My Baby by Amanda Whittington • Christmas is Miles Away by Chloë Moss •
Don Carlos by Schiller, trans. Mike Poulton • Fanny and Faggot by Jack Thorne • Flush by David Dipper • Kes by Barry Hines & Lawrence Till • St Nicholas by Conor McPherson • stoning mary by debbie tucker green • Tape by Stephen Belber